

Mind Your Golf

Leading with NLP

Bringing together the mental and technical for leading change in your game.....

Location: Moore Park Golf Club Sydney,
August 30-31 2004

The world of leadership is changing, and for many leaders technical competence is no longer enough to guarantee them continued success – in fact it has become a baseline requirement, a given. To be successful in today's organisations leaders must continually learn ways to improve their performance and achieve results in a variety of different contexts.

This unique two-day seminar utilises physical and mental aspects of golf as a powerful metaphor for leadership development and performance improvement.

One of the great promises of golf is that you can always get better. This applies to beginners, seasoned professionals and all others in between. Like most golfers there are areas of your game that you would like to significantly improve and in doing so, would lead to an even greater enjoyment of your game. We can assist you to breakthrough the most limiting aspects and further enhance your strengths of your current game to achieve that promise of the game – improving your performance and getting better results consistently.

Now take a moment to re-read the above paragraph substituting the word leadership for the words golf and/or game.....that is precisely what we are aiming for.

How can we do this?

By bringing together top technical expertise through two leading professional Golf coaches and psychological expertise through two of Australia's leading NLP (Neuro-Linguistic Programming) trainers. (See the full Biographies of your coaches and trainers).

In addition we ask you to identify specific aspects in your current leadership role where you would like to significantly improve your performance in a particular context. Throughout the seminar we will work with you, in a highly confidential manner, to process and integrate your learnings back into the business context.

This is the first seminar of its type in Australia!

How you will benefit through attending?

- manage yourself to achieve results consistently
- technique correction to specific areas of your game
- developing and maintaining high performance states
- learning processes for bootstrapping performance in an ongoing way

Applying these learnings to a specific leadership situation or context

The fees of only $1,495 for this 2 day seminar include:

- Expert Golf and NLP tuition
- 18 holes of Golf and work on the driving range
- Individual Golf coaching and CD of your swing and drills for improvement
- Individual leadership coaching and follow-up discussion with an NLP trainer

This 2 day experience is limited to 20 participants to ensure individual attention.

Significantly improve you golf performance and apply the same learnings to enhance your leadership and business success.

Golf Coaches

Terry Rowles Higher National Diploma in Golf Studies, Master Practitioner of NLP

Terry Rowles is one of the best young coaches in the world today. He worked for David Leadbetter for over 6 years, where he assisted David in teaching some of the best players in the world including Nick Faldo, Ernie Els and Greg Norman. Terry was the Director of the largest Leadbetter academy in Europe, where he was responsible for coaching other Leadbetter coaches.

Recently Terry has been pursuing other avenues of excellence to improve his coaching - through combining NLP (which he studied with the founder John Grinder and Inspiritive) with the physical side of golf Biomechanics (which he studied with the best, Paul Chek.) Terry currently coaches amateurs, professionals and corporate groups. His most famous student is Jose Maria Olazabal, the 2 time US Masters Champion.

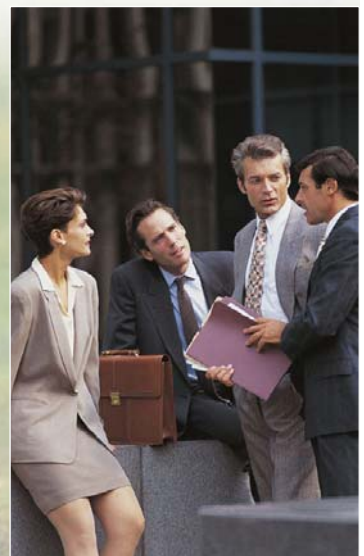

Peter Knight PGA of Australia Level 3 AAA Coach, Graduate Diploma in Sports Coaching , Master Practitioner of NLP

Peter Knight has been Head Coach of the NSWIS Golf Program since 1997 and is the current State Coaching Director with NSW Golf Association and Women's Golf NSW.

Peter has a Level 3 AAA rating with the PGA of Australia and is the coach of the NSW Men's Colts Team and Junior Teams. He recently coached the junior team to a record sixth win in seven years in the Junior Interstate Series. Peter's success with the NSW Colts team has led to wins in the 1999 and 2001 Interstate Series.

He has also been the Head Professional at Amstel Golf Course in Melbourne, Mirage Country Club in Port Douglas, and Paradise Palms Golf Course in Cairns and has a Graduate Diploma in Sports Coaching and a Master Practitioner certification in Neuro-Linguistic Programming.

NLP Trainers

Chris Collingwood Dip. Training and Assessment Systems., BA. (Psych.), MApp. Sci., Social Ecology NLP Trainer Assessor

Chris is a trainer assessor of Neuro-Linguistic Programming. He has over fifteen years experience in coaching, consulting and leading seminars in Australia and the US. Chris's background includes extensive training with developers of NLP, including Dr. John Grinder, co-originator of Neuro-Linguistic Programming. Chris is an NLP trainer certified as a trainer by Dr. John Grinder.

Chris specialises in one to one coaching with people, course design and accreditation, and the training of consultants and executive coaches. In 2003 Chris taught a series of one day seminars utilizing NLP for Golf coaches for the Australian PGA around Australia.

Clive Alcock Associate Diploma in Adult Education., B.A. (Psych.), Change Management Qualification, Associate NLP Trainer

Clive is the Director of NLP Corporate, a niche-consulting firm specialising in applications of NLP to significantly improve human and business performance. NLP Corporate provides consulting services in change management, learning and development and individual coaching.

Clive brings over twenty-five years of corporate experience in a variety of internal and external consulting roles, complemented with formal qualifications in adult learning, psychology and change management. He has also has been studying and applying NLP since 1986, gaining much of his experience as a Practitioner and Master Practitioner under the guidance of Dr John Grinder, the co founder of NLP.

Clive is currently an Associate Trainer of NLP and has been personally associated with Inspiritive for many years. He is also a keen golfer with first hand experience in applying NLP to improving his game.

Investment $1,495.00

To register please fill in the attached registration form

For more information email: cjc@inspiritive.com.au or Tel: (02) 9698 5611

